

Philadelphia July 29 - 1791.

Dear Sir,

I have examined the Act passed the 24th March 1785, referred to in your favour of the M. Assistant, and I have also read the Report of the said Officers on the subject.

I take it as a conceded circumstance that those Officers and others whose tickets have been drawn, can suffer no possible objection from putting into the Wheel at their time the tickets that were omitted, and that the Chance of those, whose tickets were in the Wheel, and not have been taken, and the omitted tickets bear drawn with theirs than if drawn separately.

Proceeding on this idea, I conceive that the Government, can, at this time, lawfully put the deficient tickets into the Wheel, and direct the same to be drawn, in favour, of the unfortunate Claimants.

I am, Sir, in your

of the Government

of the Government

of the Government
James Mendenhall
of the City of New York