In connection with this farm, the said enumerator, Green House or propagating business, the produce of which does not seem to come under the head of farm productions, I therefore give them separately. The value of the real estate connected with Green House business, separately from the farm is $18,000 dollars. Personal property and stock on hand $28,000 dollars. Amount paid for labor in 1879 $114,620. For advertising $11,138. For postage $4,336. For Coal $530. Total at a cost of $27,738. The gross amount of sales for 1879 $51,659. The business is that of propagating flowers, and seeds of which are raised, and are transported principally by mail to all the States and Territories, and to some foreign Countries. The family had quite extensive business but closed down out in the 1879 and the $1000 given on loan a fourth dividend of the 1879, repaid the Cherry Sales of 1880.
