- K. Records of the Pennsylvania Canal during the years 1857 to 1867, when it was operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad, and 1867 to 1901, when it was operated by the Pennsylvania Canal Company.

NOTE: It should be remembered that, in 1857, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania sold the Main Line of the Pennsylvania Canal, that is, the Columbia and Philadelphia Railroad, the Eastern Division, the Juniata Division, the Allegheny Portage Railroad, and the Western Division, to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company; other divisions passed by sale into other railroad and other canal company hands. A decade later, the waterway divisions of the Main Line were transferred to the Pennsylvania Canal Company, an incorporated company which presently took under its control the West Branch and Susquehanna Canal Company and the Wyoming Canal Company and, in so doing, replaced the former state services of the canal from Williamsport on the West Branch and from Wilkes Barre on the North Branch to Columbia on the Susquehanna.
